

Feeling For | A Face Serum With Some Serious Kick

WOMEN'S FASHION | By ALAINNA LEXIE BEDDIE | JULY 22, 2013, 2:18 PM | Comment

I sometimes have a hard time getting going on summer mornings, an unfortunate byproduct of triple-digit heat indexes and rosé nightcaps. Enter the Revitalise & Glow Serum, an amazing product from the new British skin-care line Aurelia Probiotic Skincare, which opened its first store in England earlier this month. Just two drops of the lightweight hydrating fluid — which smells of creamy mandarin with hints of jasmine, plumeria and tuberose — is enough to wake me up and give my skin a sun-kissed feeling that lasts all day. With its moisturizing properties and big vitamin E-packed punch (to help counteract harmful UV damage), it keeps until it's time, again, for after-work drinks alfresco.
