Take the trophy

Some coats you want to blend in with just about any outfit. Others, you want to hold their own, and that's where the "trophy" jacket comes in.

Saturated with embroidery, beading, embellishment, or

Essentiel Embroidered Trophy Jacket, £285, Anthropologie (in store next month; www.anthropologie.com)
V by Very Embroidered Trophy Jacket, currently reduced to £50 from £79 (www.very.co.uk)

all of the above, this is about as conspicuous as a cover-up gets – so it can be a little on the pricey side, but the simple shape and classic floral motifs ensure you'll be wearing yours for years to come.

THE DAY OF THE JACKET

Swap winter coats for lighter outerwear options, from now until September

@BLONDEKATIE
By KATIE WRIGHT

Ah, spring: the time when even possessing a degree in meteorology fails to make weather prediction easy (if forecasts are anything to go by). Choosing what to wear, therefore, becomes a combination of art and science, but one thing's for certain – it's time to swap winter coats for lighter outerwear options. Stock up on a jacket (or three) now and you won't regret it – you'll be layering these cover-ups over everything from knits to sundresses, from now until September. Shopping lists at the ready, these are the jackets to slip into this season.

Sport relief

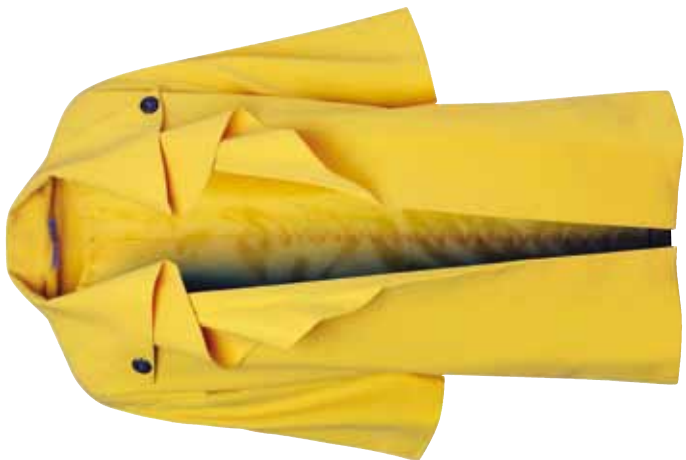

Inspired by the sporty stylings of the stand-out Chloe SS16 collection, and with the Rio Olympics not far away, hoodies, track tops and all manner of zip-ups suddenly seem way more appealing. But this isn't about wearing your gym kit all day; it's about unexpected combinations – make like the Chloe models and pair your athletics-inspired jacket with a floaty gypsy skirt or a lacy slip dress. Mademoiselle R Green Leather Bomber Jacket, £149, La Redoute (www.laredoute.co.uk)

Alba Hoodie, £155; Lorena Trousers, £125, Related Apparel (www.relatedapparel.com)

Flights of fancy

Fast overtaking the biker as the cool-girl coat of choice, the flight jacket goes into overdrive this season, with embroidery, patches and all kinds of jazzy prints. We're also detecting a definite nod to Grease's Pink Ladies, so shoulder-robining is a must if you're plumping for a rose-toned bomber – arm holes are so last year. Miss Selfridge Black Bomber Jacket, £49 (in store at end of this month; www.missselfridge.com)
Topshop Parrot Print MA1 Bomber Jacket, £60 (www.topshop.com)

The soft sell

Every wardrobe needs a crisp, gabardine double-breasted trench, but come spring, there's a lot to be said for the classic coat's softer sister. An unstructured trench can be worn unbuttoned, letting your outfit underneath have more of the limelight, and if you choose a pretty pastel rather than traditional stone, it'll be dressy enough to wear over wedding outfits, too. Nick Verreos Yellow Waterfall Mac, £63, QVC (www.qvcuk.com)

Anthropologie Rose Trench, £128 (www.anthropologie.com)

Walk on the wild side

In a departure from her usual "all things bright and flesh-baring" mantra, Donatella Versace sent out a parade of boxy safari jackets in muddy colours at the start of her SS16 show, and now we're seeing lots of copycats on the high street. These muted, multi-pocket jackets, in suede or linen, look great over a denim shirt, dungarees, or one of this season's many other denim incarnations.

Autograph Pure Linen 4 Pocket Belted Jacket, £79; Twiggly Ikat Print Blouse, £35; Twiggly Abstract Print Straight Leg Trousers, £35; Autograph Leather Across Body Bag, £69, all Marks & Spencer (www.marksandspencer.com)
Collection L Linen Look Jacket, £23.99, WTT International (www.witt-international.co.uk)

Applause, please, for Aurelia

Aurelia is responsible for this rich, top-of-the-range hand cream that moisturises dry skin, strengthens nails and even diminishes the signs of pigmentation. It smells divine thanks to an aromatic blend of vetiver, ylang ylang, lavender and patchouli. A big hand. Aurelia Aromatic Repair & Brighten Hand Cream, £28 (www.aureliaskincare.com)

Body lotion for Chelsea girls

Scottish garden lovers can come in from the greenhouse this week to enjoy TV coverage of the Chelsea Flower Show. In celebration of the event we're featuring this body lotion from Crabtree & Evelyn. Lily of the Valley is a woodland wonder and this lotion takes inspiration from its light fragrance, adding shea butter and evening primrose to soothe the skin. Gild the lily. Lily Body Lotion, £16 (www.crabtree-evelyn.co.uk)

Slip into some slides

Running the Edinburgh marathon next Sunday? Your poor feet will be so happy if you invest in a pair of these recovery slides to slip on after you have crossed the finishing line. The shoes absorb 37 per cent more shock than other foams and feature a footbed design that cradles arches and reduces stress on sore feet, knees and backs. Run and become. Men's OOahh Sport Black, £45 (www.oofos.co.uk)

Factor in some skin protection

To keep wrinkles at bay one of the best things you can do is wear an SPF every day. The Sisley range features lotions with UVA and UVB filters that are a pleasure to apply. Choose tinted or – our pick – au naturel. Sisley Facial Sun Care Youth Protector SPF30, £134 (www.sisley-paris.com)
