WHICH SHADE SUITS ME? FIND YOUR TRUE BLUE

+ BLUE EYES Navy or moss green will make natural blue look extra bright in comparison. Try The Body Shop Colour Crush in Blue Over You, £7; Look Fabulous Forever Eye Shade in Forest, £14.50; Estée Lauder Double Wear Infinite Waterproof Eyeliner in Indigo, £18.

+ GREY EYES Enhance steely tones with silvery, iridescent blues along the upper or lower lash line. Try Tom Ford Cream Color For Eyes in Siren Blue, £29; MAC Pigment in Steel Blue, £16; Lancôme Le Crayon Kohl in Gris Bleu, £17.

+ DARK BROWN EYES No risk of a colour clash, you can pull off bright shades like cobalt and jade. Try Givenchy Khôl Couture Waterproof in Turquoise, £25; KIKO Milano Water Eyeshadow in 225, £8.90; Bourjois Quad Eyeshadow Palette in Blue-Issant, £7.99.

+ HAZEL/GREEN EYES Warm greens with a metallic finish will make your natural golden tones sparkle. Try Clinique Lid Pop in Willow Pop, £15; Sisley Phyto Eye Twist in Emerald, £29; Diego Dalla Palma Mono Eyeshadow in 111, £12.

GO BARE WITH “ENHANCED REALITY” SKIN

BARELY THERE BASE has been knocking around for a few seasons, but while the trend endures, technology rolls on, so you get sexier skin that looks all your own with even less effort. “This season is about skin, and we want it to have the perfect texture,” says Terry. “Use veils of product, exfoliate, then fine layers of make-up; let it all sink in.”

Avon ANEW Clinical Advanced Resurfacing Peel, £15, contains the clever acids you normally find at twice this price; a bi-weekly swipe brightens, smooths and de-gunks pores. Build in glow by adding a drop of Aurelia Probiotic Beauty Cell Repair Night Oil, £45, in your day cream, then take on any residual skin issues with a targeted primer. Dior Diorskin Forever Base Primer, £29, mops up oil without dulling and makes base last till bed; dry or sensitive skin loves milky Paul & Joe Protecting Foundation Primer, £23.

NEXT, FOUNDATION You want super sheer and hydrating (don’t worry about covering dodgy bits – that’s what concealer is for). Becca Aqua Luminous Perfecting Foundation, £32, has hyaluronic acid and a high water content, or try oil-infused Giorgio Armani Maestro Glow Nourishing Fusion Make-up, £30. Sponges seem retro, but Barely Prep Blot and Blend, £5.99, gives a finish that’s very 2016.

“When using a blending sponge, start applying with the flat side, then take the round edge and dab outwards so you can sheer it out where you want skin to show,” advises international make-up artist Benjamin Puckey. Finish with a double-duty highlight-and-blush palette. “Press your index finger against your cheekbones to find where to place the colour – going too low with it can make cheeks look hollow,” says Benjamin. We love Diorblush Sculpt in Coral Shape, £32, and Too Faced Candlelight Glow Rosy Glow, £25.
